About this set:

This is a set of Lowercase A-Z handwriting tracer pages for children who are showing interest in letter formation. For each letter there is a small coloring page and a sticker box to reward children for their hard work.

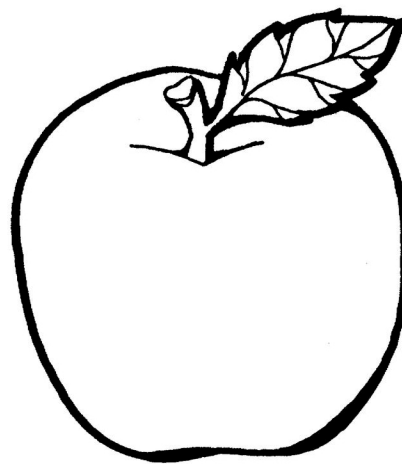

Tips:

I always start my children using skinny markers. The pen tips seem to flow nicely, and children can see their progress when using bright colors.

Not all children are ready for lettering, we have a similar set of coloring pages here that might be a good option to have on hand. Each page includes the written word for children to color in as well. It's important not to stress too much about handwriting so early, just encourage free play with toys that build small motor skills.
